PROPOSED FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATION

On May 4, 2009, Petitioner, acting pro se, filed an Application Under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 for Writ of Habeas Corpus by a Person in State or Federal Custody.<sup>1</sup> (Document No. 1.) Petitioner argues that the Bureau of Prisons [BOP] is improperly denying him a sentence reduction pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3621. (Id., pp. 6 - 8.) Petitioner explains that the BOP is improperly denying him early release under RDAP based upon his possession of a firearm in furtherance of a drug trafficking offense. (Id., p. 1.) Petitioner argues that Program Statement 5331.02 and 28 C.F.R. § 550.55 are arbitrary and capricious. (Id., pp. 3 - 5.) Petitioner explains that the BOP is improperly categorizing his conviction for possession of a firearm in furtherance of drug trafficking as a crime of violence. (Id., pp. 1 - 6.) Petitioner claims that “possession of a firearm in furtherance of a drug trafficking offense is not a violent crime.” (Id., p. 1.) Petitioner asserts that his conviction did not involve the “threatened use or actual use of physical force against the person or property of another.” (Id., p. 4.) As relief, Petitioner requests that the Court enter and “injunction to compel the BOP to grant and <sup>1</sup> Because Petitioner is acting pro se, the documents which he has filed are held to a less stringent standard than if they were prepared by a lawyer and therefore construed liberally. See Haines v. Kerner, 404 U.S. 519, 520-21, 92 S.Ct. 594, 30 L.Ed.2d 652 (1972).

provide Petitioner with the time reduction upon his completion of the 500 Residential Drug Program, and any other benefits provided.” (Id., p. 6.)

As Exhibits, Petitioner attaches the following: (1) A copy of Program Statement 5331.02 (Id., p. 9.); and (2) A copy of the BOP’s Memorandum for Chief Executive Officers dated February 17, 2009, regarding “Revised Policies Affecting Residential Drug Abuse Program Administration” (Id., pp. 11 - 14.)

ANALYSIS

The undersigned finds that Petitioner’s Section 2241 Application must be dismissed as moot. Article III, Section 2 of the United States Constitution provides that federal Courts may adjudicate only live cases or controversies. See Lewis v. Continental Bank Corp., 494 U.S. 472, 477, 110 S.Ct. 1249, 1253, 108 L.Ed.2d 400 (1990); Nakell v. Attorney General of North Carolina, 15 F.3d 319, 322 (4th Cir.), cert. denied, 513 U.S. 866, 115 S.Ct. 184, 130 L.Ed.2d 118 (1994). This means that the “litigant must have suffered, or be threatened with, an actual injury traceable to the defendant and likely to be redressed by a favorable judicial decision.” Id. In the context of a habeas corpus proceeding, the writ “does not act upon the prisoner who seeks relief, but upon the person who holds him in what is alleged to be unlawful custody.” Braden v. 30th Judicial Circuit Court of Kentucky, 410 U.S. 484, 494-95, 93 S.Ct. 1123, 1129, 35 L.Ed.2d 443 (1973). In this case, by virtue of Petitioner’s release from custody, the Respondent can no longer provide the requested relief. Consequently, the Court can no longer consider Petitioner’s Application under Section 2241.

An incarcerated convict’s (or a parolee’s) challenge to the validity of his conviction always satisfies the case-or-controversy requirement, because the incarceration (or the restriction imposed by the terms of the parole) constitutes a concrete injury, caused by the conviction and redressable by invalidation of the conviction. Once the convict’s sentence has expired, however, some concrete and continuing injury other than the now-ended incarceration or parole -- some “collateral consequence” of the conviction – must exist if the suit is to be maintained.

Spencer v. Kemna, 523 U.S. 1, 7, 118 S.Ct. 978, 983, 140 L.Ed.2d 43 (1998). Accordingly, Petitioner’s claims are rendered moot by virtue of his release from custody and the absence of collateral consequences,<sup>2</sup> and therefore, his Section 2241 Application must be dismissed.<sup>3</sup> See e.g., Alston v. Adams, 178 Fed.Appx. 295, 2006 WL 1194751 (C.A.4 (Va.)); Alvarez v. Conley, 145 Fed.Appx. 428, 2005 WL 2500659 (C.A.4 (W.Va.)); Smithhart v. Gutierrez, 2007 WL 2897942 (N.D.W.Va.).

PROPOSAL AND RECOMMENDATION

Based upon the foregoing, it is therefore respectfully PROPOSED that the District Court confirm and accept the foregoing factual findings and legal conclusions and RECOMMENDED that the District Court DENY Petitioner’s Application to Proceed in Forma Pauperis (Document No. 4.), DISMISS Petitioner’s Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus by a Person in Federal Custody under 28 U.S.C. § 2241(Document No. 1.) and REMOVE this matter from the Court’s docket.

Petitioner is notified that this Proposed Findings and Recommendation is hereby FILED,

<sup>2</sup> The Bureau of Prisons’ Inmate Locator indicates that Petitioner was released from custody on January 20, 2012.

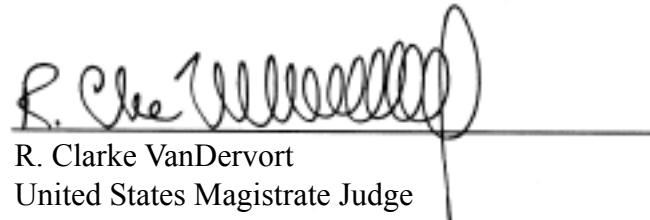

<sup>3</sup> The undersigned further notes that Petitioner does not possess a constitutionally protected expectation interest in receiving a sentence reduction. Such a subjective expectation does not arise to the level of a constitutional claim. See Mallette v. Arlington County Employees’ Supplemental Ret. Sys. II, 91 F.3d 630, 635 (4th Cir. 1996) (“[A] mere expectation of a benefit – even if that expectation is supported by consistent government practice – is not sufficient to create an interest protected by procedural due process. Instead, the statute at issue must create an entitlement to the benefit before procedural due process rights are triggered.”). Neither Section 3621(e), the BOP’s Program Statement (P.S. 5162.04), nor the Code of Federal Regulations (28 C.F.R. § 550.58), contain explicit mandatory language or standards limiting the BOP’s discretion, which may have given rise to a protected liberty interest in early release. See Kentucky Dept. of Corr. v. Thompson, 490 U.S. 454, 109 S.Ct. 1904, 1909-10, 104 L.Ed.2d 506 (1989)(Regulations must contain “explicitly mandatory language” to create a liberty interest.). Accordingly, Petitioner does not possess a statutorily protected expectation interest in early release.

and a copy will be submitted to the Honorable United States District Judge Irene C. Berger. Pursuant to the provisions of Title 28, United States Code, Section 636(b)(1)(B), Rule 8(b) of the Rules Governing Proceedings in the United States District Courts Under Section 2255 of Title 28, United States Code, and Rule 45(e) of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure, Petitioner shall have seventeen days (fourteen days, filing of objections and three days, mailing/service) from the date of filing of these Findings and Recommendation within which to file with the Clerk of this Court, written objections, identifying the portions of the Findings and Recommendation to which objection is made, and the basis of such objection. Extension of this time period may be granted for good cause shown.

Failure to file written objections as set forth above shall constitute a waiver of de novo review by the District Court and a waiver of appellate review by the Circuit Court of Appeals. Snyder v. Ridenour, 889 F.2d 1363 (4th Cir. 1989); Thomas v. Arn, 474 U.S. 140, 106 S. Ct. 466, 88 L. Ed. 2d 435 (1985); Wright v. Collins, 766 F.2d 841 (4th Cir. 1985); United States v. Schronce, 727 F.2d 91 (4th Cir. 1984), cert. denied, 467 U.S. 1208, 104 S. Ct. 2395, 81 L. Ed. 2d 352 (1984). Copies of such objections shall be served on opposing parties, District Judge Berger, and this Magistrate Judge.

The Clerk is requested to send a copy of this Proposed Findings and Recommendation to Petitioner, who is acting pro se.
